Texas Lutheran University Police Department Safety Alert

This week we have had two incidents where students have reported prowlers around the south apartments. One suspect is described as a Hispanic male wearing a black hoodie. The subject was looking in apartment windows. We are asking everyone to report any suspicious persons on campus especially around our apartment and dormitories. Extra patrol has been assigned to all residential areas.

An additional safety concern deals with doors being propped open so they cannot close and lock as intended. These doors are locked and secured for your protection. When propped open or blocked anyone can enter the building and this endangers both occupants and property. Make sure you carry you ID card or keys and please never prop open a door for any reason.
